THURSDAY, OCT. 6, 1859 witners, that, if any altempt, successful or otherwise, has been made to get up an undue excitement in this community on the entiret of the street rail read grants, it is not justly chargeable to us. We have written with as much moderation and ne little severity as the circumstances of the case seemed to us to permit. We used no harsh language toward even Mr. Gillier, until he had grossly insulted us even Mr. Gillio, until Se mad grossiv insulted to in a special before the Council, and we have not said half so made in relation to "Observer" as his sean dates and infamous charges of swindling against the Louisville and Portland Rullroad Company or nid abundantly justify. And there are friends of ours who know that we have been restrained only uv a desire to prevent an undus excitament in have wished, and we do wish, for calm and main passioned discussion, and only that, e-pecially as some of those whose views we feel it our imperative duty to oppose are men for whom we have the high-ments of Great Britain on the Rel S.z., and partic-est personal regard, men whom we would infinitely nather work for than against.

'ahere are some who say that we have attempted would command the transit route to India. The con-There are some who say that we have attempted to detenct to the General Council. These, who say this, either make a mistake or are guilty of a false this, either make a mistake or are guilty of a false theod. We have simply expressed and endeavored to enforce car own views and opiniona, as every free claims has a right to do. We do indeed feel etropean Powers. Brasis la rot abre in her catherage to enforce car own views and opiniona, as every free claims has a right to do. We do indeed feel etropean Powers. Brasis la rot abre in her catherage to the first place, that the honor and the laterests of the first place, that the honor and the laterests of the first place, that the honor and the laterests of the first place, that the honor and the laterests of the first place, that is exceed place, that a municipal body, consisting of curpolitical friands and elicated by our patronic party, should discharge their official duties intelligently and justly and right. We worked earnestiy for the election of the permanent joint compation of Cant n Pekin, and we feel that wa are, in occaming with all who went with as in the canvass and in the ele ion, responsible to no small extent for their oction. Therefore we have an endeavored to guard them, by respectful though in the first place are against visible to the read of the proposal to the proposal them to the advantages and electron to the companion of Cant n Pekin, and one paper, and the proposal to the place that wa are, in occaming with all who went with as in the canvass and in the ele ion, responsible to no small extent for their oction. Therefore we have an endeavored to guard them, by respectful though in the proposal to the proposal tof and in the cie for, responsible to no small extent for their oction. Therefore we have a proposal consequence of the consequenc bighest importance that this confidence should be kept by them unimpaired. We ware them against no influences and no liabilities to enspicion which we are not conscious that we should feel the necessity of carefully gnarding ourselves against if we had the honor to be a member of their honorable today.

We have said that some of the members of the General Council have business partners and relations in the projected company, and it is, we nudetated, a very common refort on the part of some that we have a bneicess pariner in the present comthet we have a bneicess pariner in the present comthet we have a bneicess pariner in the present comthet the manufacture of the Democrat, in stating the position of the Carrellan and the position of the Journal of the Journal was stated that the position of Mr. Clay and the Lonisville that we have a bneicess pariner in the present com-that we have a basicess pariner in the present company. True, we have; we cannot deny it. But we da not contemplate voting in any election of the mambers of a company to be the recipients of the mambers of a company to be the recipients of the mambers of a company to be the recipients of the city railroad grants. The fact that we have a hust meas partner in the present company would, in our own opinion, and, we think, in the opinion of the General Council and the public, render it improper that we should cast a vote in any such election. And the fact that the members of the Council have business pertners and relations, who are cardidates, renders it, we conceive, equally improper that they should elect a company to enjoy valuable and exhould cast they could be considered to enjoy all the power; the former that they ought to have those ident a company to be for a high ready a first the former that they ought to have those ident a company to be for a high ready to be good against the issuer. We advise our neighbor (in the kindest split concaivable) either to cultivate his memory or mend in habits.

The advise our neighbor (in the kindest split concaivable) either to cultivate his memory or mend his habits.

Pleastically, one was as much a equatter severing as the other. The latter better the power; the former that they ought to have the former than the proper than the former than the senders it, we conceive, equality improper that they should sleet a company to enjoy valuable and exclusive franchises. They end we should be alike precluded by cons directions of propriety from voting in the election of the company even if such a no election, in the absence of all competition as to terms and conditions, would be tolerable nonder any chromatomic expensions. They would be tolerable nonder any chromatomic expensions of the Territories or the Territor Let their business partners and our business partner power of self government on the people of the Tetriand all other people's business partners have a free and full competition in a fair and open field. Let the people. They repudiated squatter-covereignty

We have learned that the mail will leave will hind themselves, under ample gnaranties, to do the best by the city and the public, and then meither we nor the Council, nor our business partmer nor their business partners, nor, what is incom- sures, that the attempt to incorporate in them the mer nor their basiness partners, nor, what is incomparably more important, the community, can justly complain. We certainly don't know and can't think of a juster compromise than this.

The public, we believe, have come to understand the matter in hard fully. There is one right way of disposing of the street railroad grants, and theta are several wrong ways. We have clearly pointed out the right one, and other goaldsmen have pointed out the right one, and other goaldsmen have pointed out some of the wrong once, and they can no doubly find the rest without our halp. The one right way, the only right way, is for the General Council to obtain the best terms they can for the city and the public, making the fullest and clearest specifications and requiring the ampleat guarantees for the exact full ment of the conditions. Surely every dispassionate man must see and understand this who has eyes in his beed to say with or brains in who has eyes is his beed to sas with or brains in his head to think with. We can scarcely concelve how even litter prejudice or force plasion can deay or doubt it. If a bridge were to be built across the "much a squatter-sovereign" as General Cass or this at this point is behalf of the city, and if the General Council should give the work to a company A sillier or more groundless assertion was never made up perially of their relatives and business pattered or conceived.

A sillier or more groundless assertion was never made and achieus to furrish that amplest guarantees, satisfactory to the Council itself, for the dorry of the work at our half or one fourth the cost, the cry of favoritism would resour devry where through our atreets, and public indignation would rise at come to a high and dargerous pitch. Well, we need not point out the parallel between the appropriated case of the bridge and the actual one of the street grants. It is proposed and arged, that the connectin make the grants to a certain projected company upon terms specified by ordinance—that is, upon condition of their paying a specified mount of money to the city. Now it is well knewn, and on all hards admitted, that another company is willing, and more than willing, to pay for the grants without the competitive of point times as much as the projected company contemplates paying or will pay or will be asked to pay if they obtain the grants without the competition of public bids.

Moreover, there is not a member of either branch of the council, who does not know or cannot assaily learn, that there are no four or fire grentlement of the council of made up partially of their relatives and basiness intered or conceived. Moreover, there is not a member of eithar branch of the council, who does not know or cannot assily learn, that there are no foar or five gentlemen of intelligence and respectability and capital in the whole city, who would not most gladly, if they had the chance, give more, ircomparably more, for the grants, than Dent, Graham, & Co. dream of giving or than their pecniar friends and advocates in the council dream of requiring them to give. We are resolved to use to harsb language in this article, but we do say, and every just misched man, whether in or out of the Council, will pope neflection antial us in asying, that the members of that body could not bestow the grants is accordance with the provinces of the Collides ordinance of a popular that the cause the Sixte of Kennecky forms out the slightest dagree akin to it without being scandal-and the story the grants is accordance with the provisions of the Gillies ordinance or any ordinance in the slightest dagree skin to it without being scandal-scally recreant to their own high trust, false to their official and personal characters, and perfiditus to their perty and the city. The path, the single path of daty is plain before them, too plain to be mistaken, for the light of trust and reason is shining upon it with a neonday glare.

The stew the impolicy, the impropriety, and the grain absording of the Council's making the grants to one company on certain learns when others and even hundreds of others are ready and anxious to take them an terma far more favorable to the city and the public, it is enough to suggest one consideration. The individual members of any company, that may obtain the grants, will of course be at perfect liberty te sall out their interests to whornseed the state known of the disposal of the grants, who are new moving for the grants, contamplate divartic affinent and responsible of the gentlemen, who are new moving for the grants, contamplate divartic ordinance providing for the construction of a steel reliable length of time into the railroad business. If they get the grants, they will, it is to be presumed, dispose of their interests at no distant day to the best aurentage. It is not at all improbable that they will said out to the present Louisville and Portland Railroad Company. At any rate, they will have full possession of the grants, whilst the dyne means unlikely that the gentlemen of the present Louisville and Portland Railroad Company would have full possession of the grants, whilst the dothin, and the great question will be whether it would not promote their interests.
